CHANGE FOR CHANGE COLLECTION DRIVE AT J.P. MORGAN RAISES $5,558.93 FOR THE HOPE PROGRAM

NEW YORK, September 8, 2008 -- Change for Change® is pleased to announce the results of its loose change collection drive at J.P. Morgan on July 24, 2008 in New York City.

J.P. Morgan's Sales & Trading Summer Analyst class raised $5,558.92 in loose change contributions to benefit The HOPE Program, a nonprofit that helps New Yorkers transcend poverty by preparing them to find, keep, and grow careers.

The Summer Analyst class, comprised of 120 rising college seniors, distributed Change for Change's stadium cups to promote the program and encourage colleagues to aggregate loose change at their desks.

On July 24, 2008, the class collected over $5,000 in voluntary contributions of loose change from colleagues across three major buildings located in midtown Manhattan.

The Summer Analyst class presented a check to Rovika Rajkishun, The HOPE Program's Development Director, on Wednesday, August 6, 2008 (at right).

The Change for Change drive at J.P. Morgan was overseen by Mallory Irons, Kelly Thompson and Cari Smith, members of the Sales and Trading Summer Analyst class. They led a steering committee of fifteen peers, and were instrumental in charting out the collection strategy, overseeing collection implementation, and rallying support from their class.

This collection drive marks the fourth year that J.P. Morgan's Sales and Trading Summer Analyst class has hosted a Change for Change loose change drive. Additional information regarding Change for Change and how to bring a loose change drive to your school, campus, workplace, or community can be found on the web at www.change4change.org.
